Espresso

The children will have their email address and password stuck on the back of their home books during this week and next. This will allow you access to Espresso, an educational website which can be used at home. You will need to log on by putting the following in to the browser <https://idp.nsix.org.uk> Click on the Espresso link and then you will be asked for your child's email address and password. You must only use the password up to and not including the @ symbol otherwise you will not be able to log on. There is no other way of logging on, so please don't google Espresso as it will take you to a different way to log on, which our school doesn't subscribe to.

Healthy Day 23rd March 2018

What do we need Mums, Dads and carers to do?

Before Healthy Day

- Talk to your child/children about their favourite fruit or vegetable.
- Send in any healthy recipes for our school book.
- Ask for friends and family members to sponsor your child in the Danceathon.

On Healthy Day (23rd March 2018)

- Send your child to school wearing a top that is the same colour as their favourite fruit.

After Healthy Day

- Collect sponsor money in and return to school 28th March

Book Week

Please come and see us at the Junior school.

Norfolk Children's Book centre will be in on Tuesday 27th February.

As always, they will stock our hall with all kinds of beautiful children's books .

Please come and bring your children; browse and buy from 3.15pm onwards.

Your child will be able to use their World Book Day voucher towards buying a book or they will be able to exchange it for one of the specially released books .

Author Visit

David Bedford a local children's author has been working in school this week, delivering reading and writing workshops and signing books. The children thoroughly enjoyed working with David and were inspired to write some fantastic stories. David remarked on how responsive the children were and he was impressed with their imaginative ideas. We will be continuing to write stories in our English lessons for the next few weeks.

Year 2 children visited Norwich Market this week.

They are using the sights, sounds, and smells of the market as a stimulus for writing poetry and stories. They will also be learning about the history of the market and the geography of Norwich. Maths will also be tied in by using the context of the market to solve money problems.
